Monster Mash Halloween Party

The Monster Mash was held on October 26 at Arlene and Rudy's House. Your Newsletter Director wasn't there, having to suffer through the annual grind of Fantasy Fest. But fortunately, Arlene & Rudy and Stan Dekiel had their cameras and got these shots. Special thanks to them and to Lynette who once again organized.

The Volunteers for the Halloween Party were: Hosts Arlene and Rudy Sprenger, Lynette Beal & Bill Roberts, Carol Rappaport, Angela Glad & Harrison, Carol Saler, Nikki McSweeney, Terry Patterson, Gillian O'Neill, Trish Nehren, Lynn Robins (prior member), Jim Buckmaster, Kathy Eppler, Robert Bettarel, and Susan Cohoat

International Raft-Up

- Stan Dekiel, Sailing Director

Greetings world travelers,

The weather was threatening Saturday morning but cleared up sufficiently for an excellent time on the water.

Four boats showed representing Japan, France, Austria and Ireland.

Kudos to:

- Viking Princess and crew for Best Decorated (Japan). Great costumes to boot.
- Winim and crew for Best Costume (Austria), and authentic brats.
- Enterprise and crew for Best Drink Preparation (Ireland), Shepherd's Pie and Mussels too.
- Ryan's Place and crew for Best Appetizer (France), three French maids and a lingerie display.

Those that spent the night had a damn near perfect day for the sail home on Sunday.

Thank you all for your participation.

Nautical Phrases

Port and Starboard

Port and starboard are shipboard terms for left and right, respectively. Confusing those two could cause a shipwreck. In Old England, the starboard was the steering paddle or rudder, and ships were always steered from the right side on the back of the vessel. Larboard referred to the left side, the side on which the ship was loaded. So how did larboard become port? Shouted over the noise of the wind and the waves, larboard and starboard sounded too much alike. The word port means the opening in the "left" side of the ship from which cargo was unloaded. Sailors eventually started using the term to refer to that side of the ship. Use of the term "port" was officially adopted by the U.S. Navy by General Order, 18 February 1846.
